

4.1 Engage in a review of contemporary best practices - This student engaged in a review of best practices when working with adult survivors of sexual abuse. The findings indicate that the trauma from childhood played a significant role in the responses this client exemplified through his mental diagnoses.

4.1 Engage in a review of contemporary best practices- This student is reviewing best practices when engaging with Restore Hope as well as the multiple committees of Region III. This student provides updates to her supervisor each week regarding this process. This student communicated with a client regarding the program but was not able to assist her as someone else had reached out to them as well.

4.1 Engage in a review of contemporary best practices - This student engaged in a review of best practices before each engagement with clients in individual therapy sessions. I reviewed text books and online resources for treatment modalities to use during each individual session.

4.1 Engage in a review of contemporary best practices - During supervision, we discussed how Erlanger's task forces would not necessarily be beneficial to the community because of a lack of awareness and recruitment. Erlanger's representative creates task forces but does not have any implementation or follow-through on recruitment of people to help.

4.1 Engage in a review of contemporary best practices- This student reviewed a needs assessment document from the committees for Region III needs and will determine which committee she will participate in. Discussion will be made in next week's supervision regarding the details.
