

Screenshot From Tevera Journal

8.1 Engage with clients and constituencies to critically choose and implement culturally responsive, evidenced-informed interventions to achieve client and constituency goals:

This week at Partnership I conducted follow-up sessions with each of my clients, ensuring their well-being remained a top priority. These follow-ups provided a crucial platform for assessing progress and addressing evolving concerns. During these follow-up sessions, I engaged with clients, not only seeing how they were doing, but also seeing if they were in need of any resources. By intervening and advocating on behalf of my clients, I facilitated their journey towards achieving personal goals and asserting their fundamental rights to justice. 🗝