

JR: I'm from Chicago

Samir: Oh I'm guessing it rains there a lot?

JR: Sometimes yeah but I like it when it comes you know

Samir: yeah

JR: It's different

Samir: I'm used to dryer weather. I like to do a lot of outdoor things. Rains fun and all but kinda restricts things like that

JR: Understandable

Samir: Well before we get started into our session, and get too far ahead of ourselves uh, I want to clarify how I work so that you can understand how the session is going to go and you'll have a blueprint of how things are run so you don't get surprised about anything. So this session is going to be about 10 min long, we are going to discuss the ussie you have for today, I'm going to ask you some questions so I can better understand your situation so I can be able to formulate proper feedback for you, however, just as a warning, I'm not going to be giving you advice because you are the expert of your own life, I'm going to be the practitioner to help guide you to find a way that best like

Should have been less dramatic with my hands, didn't notice what I was doing until it was too late

Clarification of work

Probably do no need to say some of the things because it was basically repeating myself like "you'll have a blueprint" even though I said, "so you can understand how the session is going to go"

Fairly confident about this section, only issues is I forgot what I was aiming to say, which probably led to me repeating myself the whole way through that

were close and you used to confide in her and talk to her about things and now you're in college together, you seem to be drifting apart and she's kinda avoiding you and you're trying to be friends with her but she's kinda not putting the effort, I suppose, JR: yeah Samir: Also when she needs something though, she'll come back and be your friend and you just don't want to be friends so that she can use you that right? JR: absolutely yeah Samir: mhm, what, do you think you know what caused that? JR: no I can't think of any reason, there wasn't a break or divide Samir: yeah and I am guessing you and your friend were very close in high school? And middle school? Or? JR: Just high school Samir: Just high school, how long did you know her before, um, you got into high school? JR: I didn't know her before I got into high school	Paraphrasing Echoing Key words No need for the "I suppose" part. Does not sound like I am fully aware of the situation Clarification Open-ended question Should not have asked this question, I already asked if above, may have insulted the client as if I wasn't listening to him	I think I know the answer to this, but I want to double check I am drawing blanks, what should I ask. Panicked and ended up asking the same thing. Definitely regretted it after the question was already asked.

Samir: okay and this was more of a sudden change that happened?

JR: mhm

Samir: okay, and how has that affected your daily life, with trying to figure out the relationship with your friend, if it's still there or not?

JR: Well it's just comes to mind when I get a text or a call from her like can you do something for me. Like I'll see her at events and she doesn't like interact, does that make sense?

Samir: yeah

JR: if it's happening in that moment, then I'll think about it but if it's not then I wont

Samir: Okay, so it's more of a when something else happens that involves her it comes to mind and then you have, what kind of feelings are associated when when she does text or message you or you see her. What kind of feelings do you have when that happens?

JR: kinda sad, kinda angry at the same time, just disappointment

Samir: okay, so anger sadness, kinda disappointment because the friendship you

Active listening

Less words. Way too much talking here can be much more concise, "How do you feel when she talks or texts you?"

Reflection

Curious why things dropped so suddenly, but what is the problem? Is this restricting something in his daily life?

Not getting a lot of named emotions here, need to find out some without assuming I know what he feels

Commented [AH1]: Good!

had is not as strong as it used to be

JR: right

Samir: mkay, what have you tried so far to try to mend this friendship?

JR: I've tired reaching out and she'll not take the offer but that's pretty much it. Or I'll tag her on Facebook or Instagram and she'll ignore it or even un-tag herself, so it's kinda weird.

Samir: Yeah it's a difficult situation and you're trying to reach out to her but she's not really accepting you reaching out

JR: right, yeah

Samir: well, I have a rather strange question to ask you

JR: okay

Samir: so bear in mind, but suppose tonight when you go back to your dorm room or your apartment, and go to bed, you can finally rest, really good rest. Like you completely knock out, you're sound asleep. And while you're asleep a miracle happens, but you're asleep so you didn't know the miracle had happened. So when you wake up in the morning, the miracle was that the issue you brought her today is completely solved, so when you wake up what

Empathy

The miracle question

Here's another attempt, is this going through as empathy? Really unsure but testing the waters

Commented [AH3]: Good!

I like my twist on this question. I have this down. Totally confident

are you going to notice that's going to tell you that the miracle did happen? JR: Probably her initiating us being able to hang out or talk on her own instead of me trying to trigger something Samir: mhm JR: Or like if I'm in class and she texts me like "hey you want to hang out?" and like talk and catch up. I think that would be kind of a big thing. Just showing up where I am and just being like "hey lets hang out" just something like that. Samir: So she'd show more interest and initiate conversations JR: yeah Samir: rather than you having to do everything, right? JR: yeah Samir: What would she, like what would she notice that would be different about you if this miracle did happen? JR: I mean she would definitely see that I'd be happier	Active listening Paraphrase Clarification Follow-up question to Miracle question

know, catch up and do stuff like that, but because she hasn't taken those offers, it's kinda harder to work with, and I've even tried to talk to her friends that she hangs out with a lot more now and I've tried to hang out with them, and they will hang out with me but she won't be there, just stuff like that. So I don't know

Samir: Well it seems like we kinda have an idea what you have tried and since our time is running out, um, maybe, if you would like to come again, we can arrange and talk more and explore the situation further and be able to find a better, a good method for you

Samir: But as a quick recap of the session, you and your friend are, grew distant. Back in high school you used to be really close and you used to hang out a lot but now she kinda avoids you, but she contacts you when she needs something and you've already tried to talk to her and to her friends and that hasn't worked. And is there anything else I missed?

JR: no that's about right

Samir: Okay, would you like to meet again?

JR: yeah let's do it

Summary

Set plan for future sessions

Time is running out, I need to end the session or risk going over without ending the session abruptly

Samir: alright, will next week work?

JR: yes sounds good

Samir: okay sounds perfect, thank you for coming, I'll see you then

JR: alright thank you

Close
